A NOTE TO TEACHERS

The complete Evergreen-Black Cat list of inexpensive, quality paperbacks in the fields of literature, art, music, philosophy, religion, history, sociology, psychology and psychoanalysis will be found for the first time in this catalog. Many of the books listed have already been widely selected as texts and for collateral reading in leading junior colleges, technical schools, colleges, and universities. For example, more than 500,000 copies of the works of Samuel Beckett alone have been chosen for classroom use in drama, religion, philosophy, and other courses. Other widely-adopted authors include Bertolt Brecht, Friedrich Dürrenmatt, Eugène Ionesco, Jean Genet, Harold Pinter, Alain Robbe-Grillet, E. E. Cummings, Alfred Kazin, Robert S. Lynd, Robert L. Heilbroner, and C. Wright Mills. Our educational policy:

Examination Copies: We welcome requests for complimentary examination copies of the books in this catalog from teachers who wish to consider them for adoption. Please supply information about the course and enrollment.

Desk Copies: The adoption of an Evergreen book for a class of ten or more entitles the instructor to a complimentary desk copy for his own use, if he has not previously received one.

Professional Discount: Instructors will receive a 20 per cent discount on Evergreen and Grove Press books for their own personal use. Payment must accompany the order—postage will be paid by Grove Press. Please include sales tax wherever applicable. All correspondence should be addressed to:

DRAMA

JOHN ARDEN

"Arden is a genuine original; and far more important than the differences between his plays and those of his contemporaries is the internal consistency which makes them a logical, coherent progression, all first, foremost, and unmistakably the product of one exceptional mind."—John Russell Taylor

The Business of Good Government: A Christmas Play

A serio-comic drama, this is a playful adaptation of the nativity story. A unique aspect of this play is that it is written to be highly adaptable. It is especially suitable for improvisations and variations according to taste and local circumstance.

E-412/$1.45

Left-Handed Liberty: A Play About Magna Carta

"This drama about Magna Carta was commissioned from the English playwright for the 750th anniversary of the signing of this world-famous document of King John. The play is highly dramatic, almost entirely historically accurate and beautifully characterized. It is intended for simplified production and can be performed anywhere. It is especially recommended to college and university libraries serving dramatic groups as well as to drama and literary collections regardless of size."—Library Journal (review written by George Freedley, Curator, Theatre Collection, New York Public Library, Library Journal)

Serjeant Musgrave's Dance

British anti-war play which won several awards. "I regard it, with the exception of Brendan Behan's The Hostage, as the finest piece of contemporary literature that has recently been offered in the English theatre."—John Raymond

E-312/$1.75

Three Plays

Includes Live Like Pigs, Arden's first play to have a New York production ("Ribald, brawling, roaring . . ." wrote Howard Taubman in The New York Times); The Waters of Babylon, which deals with such problems as prostitution and ethics in local government; and The Happy Haven, which portrays life in an old people's home and relates the experiments performed on the unwilling inmates by the doctor in charge.

BC-109/$1.65

SAMUEL BECKETT

"The most remarkable writer to emerge since World War II."—Saturday Review

Endgame

"Mr. Beckett shows us a mastery outside the grasp of any other dramatist now writing . . . a magnificent theatrical experience."—London Sunday Times

E-96/$1.75

Happy Days

Full-length, two-character play. "A song of rue that will haunt the inner ear long after you have heard it."—Howard Taubman, The New York Times E-318/$1.45

Krapp's Last Tape (Includes Krapp's Last Tape; All That Fall; Embers; Act Without Words I; Act Without Words II)

Five dramatic pieces written since Waiting for Godot, including one short stage play, two radio plays, and two pantomimes.

E-226/$1.95

Waiting for Godot

The most widely-adopted book in the history of Grove Press, Waiting for Godot has been selected as a text and as collateral reading by more than 400 colleges and universities for courses in drama, philosophy, religion, and other subjects. "One of the most noble and moving plays of our generation."—London Times

E-33/$1.75

Note: For additional works by Samuel Beckett see CONTEMPORARY WORLD LITERATURE and POETRY sections

BRENDAN BEHAN

"Playwright, jester, wit, man with a glass in his hand, a fire in his soul, and the sword of justice in his mind."—Picture Post

The Quare Fellow and The Hostage: 2 Plays

Two full-length plays in one volume. The Quare Fellow, a tragi-comedy, is set in an Irish prison on the eve of an execution. Beneath the gallows humor and the farce, Behan has written a savage indictment of capital punishment. "Behan's convicts behave with hair-raising jocularity, exchanging obscene insults even while they are digging the murderer's grave. . . . The tension is intolerable. . . . With superb dramatic tact, the tragedy is concealed beneath layer after layer of rough comedy."—Kenneth Tynan, The Observer. The Hostage is a witty and profound comment on Anglo-Irish relations and the Irish themselves, full of rollicking comedy, satirical songs, and ballads. "If you can imagine a bad dream that is a good dream, you will have come close to the pot au feu that Mr. Behan has stirred with a witch's ladle and then slopped, with nightmare gaiety, all over the stage . . . he is an astonishing man of the theater."—Walter Kerr, New York Herald Tribune BC-79/$1.45

UGO BETTI Three Plays (Includes The Queen and the Rebels, The Burnt Flower-Bed, Summertime)

"Ugo Betti's statements are indeed as important, and as dramatically right, as Ibsen's in his day."—Time and Tide E-90/$2.45

BERTOLT BRECHT

"To those who begin to see him as a whole, every other living playwright seems more or less trivial."—London Times Literary Supplement

Baal, A Man's A Man, The Elephant Calf (Early Plays)

Edited and with introductions by Eric Bentley; Baal translated by Bentley and Martin Esslin; other two plays translated by Bentley. Baal is Brecht's first play. A Man's A Man enjoyed a successful off-Broadway run. BC-60/$1.45

The Caucasian Chalk Circle

Revised English version by Eric Bentley. Brecht's last play, The Caucasian Chalk Circle "represents Brecht's poetic and dramatic talent at the peak of its power. We are indebted to Eric Bentley . . . for a version that conveys the vigor and incisiveness of Brecht's mind and spirit."—John Gassner. "Recommended for all modern drama collections."—Library Journal BC-116/95¢

Edward II: A Chronicle Play

Based on Christopher Marlowe's classic of the same name, this is one of Brecht's most important earlier plays. It is written in blank verse of great vigor and poetic impact. English version by Eric Bentley. Edward II was enthusiastically acclaimed upon its première at the San Francisco Actor's Workshop in 1965.

BC-119/$1.45

Galileo

Brecht's masterpiece which occupies a central place in the stage work of the great German dramatist. In the famous English version by Charles Laughton; edited and with an introduction by Eric Bentley linking the play to Brecht's experience with both Hitlerism and Stalinism. "Galileo is entirely contemporary in view of the events of our atomic age and in relation to certain problems of conscience."—Harold Clurman BC-120/$1.45

The Good Woman of Setzuan

English version by Eric Bentley. "Strange in form, nonsentimental in theme, and stimulating from several points of view. . . . The Good Woman of Setzuan is an original excursion into a kind of theater that has many possibilities."—Brooks Atkinson, The New York Times. "Recommended for all modern drama collections."—Library Journal

BC-117/95¢

The Jewish Wife and Other Short Plays

The six short plays in this collection represent some of Bertolt Brecht's best work. Included are The Jewish Wife, In Search of Justice, The Informer, The Elephant Calf, The Measures Taken, and The Exception and the Rule. The fragmentary Salzburg Dance of Death, based on a manuscript which recently came to light, is included as an appendix. English versions by Eric Bentley.

BC-80/$1.65

Jungle of Cities and Other Plays

Includes Jungle of Cities translated by Anselm Hollo and with preface by Mr. Hollo; Drums in the Night, translated by Frank Jones and with preface by Mr. Jones; Roundheads and Peakheads, translated by N. Goold-Verschoyle, together with notes on the text by Eric Bentley, General Editor of the Grove Press Edition of the Works of Bertolt Brecht.

The Mother

The first English language publication of one of Brecht's major plays. In this free adaptation of Gorki's world-famous novel of the same name, Brecht has drawn a richly human figure who is one of the unforgettable characters of the modern theater. Includes notes by the author. Translated and with an introduction by Lee Baxandall.

BC-90/$1.45

Mother Courage and Her Children

Translated and adapted by Eric Bentley. The Broadway success which, in the words of Howard Taubman, The New York Times, "is a different theatre experience. In its humor, irony, and truth, it is a work to welcome and cherish." "One of the greatest plays of our time."—Richard Gilman, Commonweal

BC-108/95¢

Seven Plays (In the Swamp, A Man's A Man, Saint Joan of the Stockyards, Mother Courage, Galileo, The Good Woman of Setzuan, The Caucasian Chalk Circle)

Edited and with introduction by Eric Bentley. Clothbound.

GP-248/$8.50

The Threepenny Opera

English book by Desmond Vesey; English lyrics by Eric Bentley; includes author's notes and a foreword by Lotte Lenya telling how the opera came into being. The Threepenny Opera broke all box office records in its original Berlin run, 1928-1933, and in New York, 1954-1961. "I think The Threepenny Opera and Mother Courage are the great plays of our time."—Lillian Hellman

BC-73/95¢

The Visions of Simone Machard

by BERTOLT BRECHT and LION FEUCHTWANGER

Translated and with a preface by Carl Richard Mueller. Published here for the first time in English, The Visions of Simone Machard has often been called one of Brecht's most tender and moving plays. The playwright wrote it during his Hollywood exile in 1942, together with the German novelist Lion Feuchtwanger.

BC-88/$1.25

Note: For additional works by Bertolt Brecht see POETRY section.

SHELAGH DELANEY

The Lion in Love

A rollicking portrait of the English poorer classes. Produced off-Broadway.

E-338/$1.75

A Taste of Honey

"A remarkable new play"... by an "original, exuberant writer, with a wonderful ear for a theatrical line."—The New Yorker. This famous Broadway success was later made into an award-winning film.

E-159/$1.45

FRIEDRICH DÜRRENMATT

An Angel Comes to Babylon and Romulus the Great

Two plays, one translated from the German by William McElwee and the other by Gerhard Nellhaus. An Angel Comes to Babylon is a magic-lantern comedy attacking the folly of kings and the blindness of governments. Romulus the Great, presented on Broadway several seasons ago, is one of the author's strongest satirical dramas.

E-402/$1.95

Four Plays

Prefaced by an illuminating essay by the author, this volume includes the complete texts of Romulus the Great, The Marriage of Mr Mississippi, An Angel Comes to Babylon, and The Physicists. Clothbound.

GP-335/$6.00

The Marriage of Mr Mississippi and Problems of the Theatre

The Marriage of Mr Mississippi, translated by Michael Bullock, is an inventive drama of four men—a revolutionary, a public prosecutor, a politician, and a count—fighting for the possession of one woman—and a biting comment on the human condition. The volume includes the Gerhard Nellhaus translation of Dürrenmatt's famous essay, Problems of the Theatre, in which he analyzes the relationship between his plays and the world crises against which they are projected.

The Physicists

Translated by James Kirkup. First performed in Zurich early in 1963 to wide acclaim. "It takes a play like The Physicists to remind us what an adventure of mind and spirit the theater can be."—New York World-Telegram and Sun. "Uncompromising, starkly bold... lines that jangle with mordant wit."—London Times Literary Supplement

E-380/$1.75

The Visit

Translated by Patrick Bowles. The first complete English translation of the play that many critics consider Dürrenmatt's finest work. Unlike an earlier version adapted for the English-language stage, this translation adheres faithfully to the author's original play as it was published and performed in German.

E-344/$1.75

JACK GELBER

"A playwright who wishes to alarm, shock, revolt, and emotionally inflame."—Walter Kerr

The Apple

Full-length experimental drama produced by The Living Theatre in New York. In 1961. "The season's liveliest theatrical conversation piece."—Time

E-291/$1.75

The Connection

The great stage hit of New York and Paris which was made into a movie. "Emerges as the most original piece of new American playwrighting in a long, long time."—Henry Hewes, Saturday Review

E-223/$1.75

Square in the Eye

"Mr. Gelber has caught the ring of a place and a time—Greenwich Village in 1962. He has given the audience a sense of a life being lived on stage, and he has the ability to make the audience wonder and care . . . a strong play, funny and scathing and sad."—The New Yorker

E-394/$1.95

JEAN GENET

"The most brilliant, the most gifted, and the most depraved of the new French dramatists."—Robert Brustein

The Balcony

Translated by Bernard Frechtman. In a series of macabre, climactic scenes, Genet develops his mocking view of men and society in a play Kenneth Tynan calls "a theatrical experience as startling as anything since Ibsen." A long-running off-Broadway play and a widely-acclaimed movie.

E-130/$1.95

The Blacks: A Clown Show

Translated by Bernard Frechtman. The great off-Broadway hit which is as startling on the printed page as it is on the stage.

E-208/$1.95

The Maids and Deathwatch (2 plays)

Preface by Jean-Paul Sartre, translated by Bernard Frechtman. "All the poison and impotence of contemporary Europe are expressed in this little play [The Maids] which is one of the bitterest and most harrowing works of our time."—The New Yorker. Deathwatch is a violent yet sensitive study of prisoners in conflict.

E-44/$1.95

The Screens

Translated by Bernard Frechtman. "A shocking, brutal, but magnificently dramatic and human work . . . a culmination of everything Genet has done."—Roger Blin E-374/$1.95

ROLF HOCHHUTH

The Deputy

Translated by Richard and Clara Winston. The full English text of the complete, uncut book version of the German drama about the role of Pope Pius XII during Hitler's annihilation of European Jewry. This edition provides the entire text of the play which has served as the basis for numerous acting versions throughout the world, plus 50-page "Historical Sidelights" by the author, and a preface by Dr. Albert Schweitzer. B-1889/95¢

EUGÈNE IONESCO

"Explosively, liberatingly funny . . . a supreme theatrical conjurer."—Kenneth Tynan. "Supremely theatrical . . . a formidable avant-gardist capable of challenging us as well as irritating us."—John Gassner

Four Plays (The Bald Soprano, The Lesson, The Chairs, Jack, or the Submission)

Translated by Donald M. Allen. One of the most controversial theatrical events in recent years was the New York production of The Chairs and The Lesson. The other two plays have been staged in New York as well. E-101/$1.95

The Killer and Other Plays (Improvisation or The Shepherd's Chameleon, Maid to Marry)

Translated by Donald Watson. "The Killer is Ionesco's best play. . . . Never has despair had such a tone, at first ironic and ultimately lugubrious."—Pierre Marcabru, Arts E-189/$1.95

Rhinoceros and Other Plays (The Leader, The Future Is in Eggs or It Takes All Sorts to Make a World)

Translated by Derek Prouse. Rhinoceros is a biting lampoon of uniformity which was a sensational Broadway triumph. E-259/$1.95

Three Plays (Amédée, The New Tenant, Victims of Duty)

Translated by Donald Watson. Three plays that continue the wildly improbable, hilarious, and wholly-original writing for the stage that make the Rumanian-born French dramatist a sensation wherever his plays are performed or read. E-119/$1.95

KENNETH KOCH

Bertha and Other Plays

The first collection of plays by the widely-acclaimed American poet and playwright. Includes George Washington Crossing the Delaware; scenes from Angelica; Pericles; The Merry Stones; Guinevere, or the Death of the Kangaroo; Bertha; The Construction of Boston; The Return of Yellowmay; The Revolt of the Giant Animals; The Building of Florence; and six improvisational plays: The Academic Murders, Easter, The Gold Standard, The Lost Feed, Mexico, and Coil Supreme. E-391/$1.95

JOHN MORTIMER

The Dock Brief and Other Plays (What Shall We Tell Caroline?, I Spy)

Three plays by a leading new British dramatist. The Dock Brief is a "perfect jewel of a play."—London Sunday Times E-327/$1.95

JOHN OSBORNE

"Mr. Osborne seems alone among current British playwrights in being able to create heroes of our time."—London Times

Inadmissible Evidence

A new play by the author of Look Back in Anger, The Entertainer, and Luther, and acclaimed by many critics as his best to date. "Even from the printed page, the passionate words of Osborne's latest hero . . . leap like an axe to smite between the eyes."—Oxford Mail E-399/$1.75

Plays for England and The World of Paul Slickey

Plays for England includes two plays: The Blood of the Bambergs: A Fairy Story, and Under Plain Cover: A Play in One Act, both produced at the Royal Court Theatre in London in 1962. The World of Paul Slickey, written in musical comedy form, complete with lyrics, is a sharp assault on various aspects of contemporary society. BC-110/$1.45

JOE ORTON

Entertaining Mr. Sloane

The winner of the 1964 London Critics' "Variety" Award as the best new British play of the year. "The best first play I have ever seen in 28 years of play-going"—Terence Rattigan. "Frightening, pitiful, and funny by turns and all at once."—London Sunday Times E-393/$1.45

HAROLD PINTER

"The most original, disturbing, and arresting talent in theatrical London."—London Sunday Times

The Birthday Party and The Room (2 plays)

Both plays are invested with the elements that make Pinter's work unique: the disturbing familiarity of the dialogue, the subtle characterizations, the compulsive power that can be by turns terrifying, moving, and wildly funny.

E-315/$1.75

The Caretaker and The Dumb Waiter (2 plays)

"The Caretaker is a play of strangely-compelling beauty and passion . . . a powerful drama with a climax that tears at the heart . . . proclaims its author as one of the important playwrights of our day."—Howard Taubman, The New York Times

E-299/$1.75

The Homecoming

The London stage success which is scheduled for a major Broadway production. The drama concerns a professor in an American university who brings his wife to his London home and involves her in a series of encounters which can only be described as "Pinteresque." "It offers the stirring spectacle of a man in total command of his talent."—The Observer

E-411/$1.95

Three Plays (The Collection, A Slight Ache, and The Dwarfs)

The New York production of The Collection won rave reviews. "Original and remarkable"—Howard Taubman, The New York Times. "Exceptionally intriguing"—Walter Kerr, New York Herald Tribune

E-350/$1.95

GORE VIDAL

Romulus

Two plays in one volume—Romulus, the Broadway adaptation by Gore Vidal of Friedrich Dürrenmatt's play Romulus the Great, together with the complete text of the original drama. Vidal explains his changes in a specially written preface. Clothbound.

GP-343/$6.00

ARNOLD WEINSTEIN

Red Eye of Love

Reveals a new American playwright "who possesses an inventiveness with words, and a rare capacity and urge to record the American scene as it is, rather than with some willful oversimplification."—Henry Hewes, Saturday Review

E-307/$1.75

NEW EVERGREEN PLAYSRIPT SERIES

The Evergreen Playscript Series, a new concept in paperback publishing, is designed to make available new and vital works of contemporary drama in an attractive format at reasonable prices. Already published, or planned for publication, are new plays by dramatists from the United States, England, France, Germany, Poland, Russia, India, and Japan. The first plays in this group are:

PAUL ABLEMAN

Green Julia

A witty duologue between two graduate students splitting up after five years of sharing rooms. Their jokes, their parody-games, and their probing conversation reveal not only their true feelings for each other, but also the death of a friendship. "Virtuoso playwriting, controlled, funny, and penetratingly incisive."—The Spectator

E-406/$1.00

DAVID HALLIWELL

Hail Scrawdyke!

This harsh comic fantasy about four art students in the North Country of England who are expelled from school and decide to take their revenge by fomenting a Hitler-like putsch was one of the major revelations of the 1966 London theater season. The English drama critics praised the play: "Unfolds with sure theatricality... as heady as Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?"—Ronald Bryden, The New Statesman.

E-421/$1.00

ERROL JOHN

Moon on a Rainbow Shawl

This work by the Trinidad playwright has already been produced in half a dozen countries, including a successful off-Broadway run, and was awarded first prize

in the London Observer Play Competition. "It has a warmth and power which makes most of our indigenous products look thin."—The Observer E-405/$1.00

JOEL OPPENHEIMER

The Great American Desert

A wild, humorous chronicle of three Western outlaws—with Wyatt Earp, Wild Bill Hickock, Billy the Kid, and Doc Holliday as chorus—this is a tongue-in-cheek parody of the vast mythos of the Hollywood "horse opera" and all that lies behind it in history and fiction. E-407/$1.00

DAVID RUDKIN

Afore Night Come

An atmosphere of unspecified menace pervades this drama set in a rural pocket of the Black County, not far from the Midland industrial centers of England. It culminates in the ritual murder of a stranger who wanders into a group of fruit pickers and becomes the focus of their discontent. E-408/$1.00

DRAMA—ANTHOLOGIES

Artists' Theatre: Four Plays

edited by HERBERT MACHIZ

Try! Try! by Frank O'Hara. The Heroes by John Ashbery, The Bait by James Merrill, Absalom by Lionel Abel. E-221/$2.45

The New British Drama

edited by HENRY POPKIN

Includes following complete plays: A Taste of Honey by Shelagh Delaney; The Hostage by Brendan Behan; Roots by Arnold Wesker; Serjeant Musgrave's Dance

by John Arden; One Way Pendulum by N. F. Simpson; The Caretaker by Harold Pinter; together with essays about the emergence of a new dramatic form in England by directors and playwrights.

Special clothbound text edition GT-308/$4.50

The Nō Plays of Japan

translated by ARTHUR WALEY

In this volume, Arthur Waley presents his definitive translations of twenty famous Nō plays, and summaries of many more. In addition, Mr. Waley offers extracts from the lost Works of Seami, an actor-author who was re-discovered recently. "His book," says Arthur Waley, "has not only removed many misconceptions about the early history of Nō, but is in itself one of the most interesting treatises on drama which exists."

E-62/$1.95

One Act: Eleven Short Plays of the Modern Theatre

edited by SAMUEL MOON

Now available for the first time in the popular pocket-size edition, these eleven plays present the major figures of the modern theater, ranging from the naturalism of Strindberg to the theater of the absurd of Ionesco. Includes: Miss Julie by August Strindberg; Purgatory by William Butler Yeats; The Man With the Flower in His Mouth by Luigi Pirandello; Pullman Car Hiawatha by Thornton Wilder; Hello Out There by William Saroyan; 27 Wagons Full of Cotton by Tennessee Williams; Bedtime Story by Sean O'Casey; Cecile by Jean Anouilh; This Music Crept by Me Upon the Waters by Archibald MacLeish; A Memory of Two Mondays by Arthur Miller; The Chairs by Eugène Ionesco.

BC-107/$1.95

Seven Plays of the Modern Theater

introduction by HAROLD CLURMAN

Includes: Waiting for Godot by Samuel Beckett, The Quare Fellow by Brendan Behan, A Taste of Honey by Shelagh Delaney, The Connection by Jack Gelber, The Balcony by Jean Genet, Rhinoceros by Eugène Ionesco, and The Birthday Party by Harold Pinter.

Special clothbound text edition GT-325/$4.50

The script is illustrated with more than 70 shots and sequences chosen and arranged by film-maker Robert Hughes. E-284/$1.95

The Japanese Film

by JOSEPH L. ANDERSON and DONALD RICHIE

The authors trace the history of the Japanese cinema from 1896 to the present. Every major Japanese film is mentioned—and many minor ones—with a short synopsis of each, listing the director and leading players. Acting and directing techniques are also discussed. Includes 144 movie stills. "A valuable reference book for the student in mass communications and indispensable for libraries."—Antioch Review

CONTEMPORARY AMERICAN LITERATURE

WILLIAM S. BURROUGHS

"For the new generation of American writers the work of William Burroughs is by far the most seriously influential being done today."—Terry Southern. "I think William Burroughs is the only American novelist living today who may conceivably be possessed by genius."—Norman Mailer. "Burroughs is not only serious in his intent, but he is a writer of great power and artistic integrity engaged in a profoundly meaningful search for true values."—John Ciardi

Naked Lunch

Selected in a Book Week poll as one of the most memorable novels of the post-war period and one of the books most likely to endure, this work has perhaps created more discussion and generated more controversy than any other novel in recent years. "One of the most alive books written by any American for years."—Robert Lowell

BC-115/$1.25

Nova Express

This novel is "an absolutely devastating ridicule of all that is false, primitive, and vicious in current American life: the abuses of power, hero worship, aimless violence, materialistic obsession, intolerance, and every form of hypocrisy."—Terry Southern, Book Week

BC-102/95¢

The Soft Machine

With the ironic humor, wild imagination, keen insight, and a mastery of dialogue for which he is famed, Burroughs uses the framework of a fantastic adventure story to depict a teeming underworld of rebellion beneath the façade of contemporary life. Clothbound.

LEROI JONES    The System of Dante's Hell

This novel, by the well-known playwright and poet LeRoi Jones, is an account of a Negro's childhood and adolescence in the slums of Newark, the experiences of a Northern Negro in a small Southern town where the Air Force has sent him, and glimpses of life in New York. In form and language it is a poetic molding of these materials into an entirely new and original shape structured on the themes of Dante's Inferno. BC-118/95¢

ALFRED KAZIN    A Walker in the City

An account of boyhood and young manhood by the well-known writer, critic, and teacher. "There is certainly no recent autobiographer with so exact and lyric a memory."—Irwin Edman. "A singular and beautiful work . . . an immense achievement."—Brendan Gill, The New Yorker. "A book of rare beauty and distinction."—Edmund Fuller E-108/$1.95

JACK KEROUAC

Satori in Paris

A breakneck, dizzying record of the author's 1965 trip to France to trace his surname, during which he experienced a satori, the Japanese word for "sudden illumination." A bright addition to the Kerouac canon, it sings and bristles with his singular, catholic view of life and the world. Clothbound. GP-372/$3.95

The Subterraneans

A novel about the "Beat Generation." John K. Hutchins, in the New York Herald Tribune, said Kerouac "dreams of America in the authentic rolling rhythms of a Whitman or a Thomas Wolfe, drunk with eagerness for life." Z-1006/75¢

HENRY MILLER

"One of the most remarkable, most truly original authors of this or any age. He is a word master whose range, so far as I know, is unique in breadth and depth."—Ben Ray Redman, Saturday Review

THE FAMOUS TRILOGY

Tropic of Cancer

"For me, Tropic of Cancer stands beside Moby Dick. . . American literature today begins and ends with the meaning of what Miller has done."—Lawrence Durrell BC-10/95¢

Tropic of Capricorn

"A superb entertainment that brings in as it goes jeremiads, casual lyrics, and sudden reaches toward the spiritual core of life."—The New York Times Book Review. "Incomparably the finest comic fantasy by any writer now among the living."—Newsweek E-385/$2.45

BC-59/95¢

Black Spring

The third volume of Henry Miller's famed venture in self-revelation that began with Tropic of Cancer and Tropic of Capricorn. "It is the lusty, uninhibited song of a man completely happy without illusions."—Eric Moon BC-61/95¢

THE ROSY CRUCIFIXION

Sexus, Plexus and Nexus (3 volumes)

"The Rosy Crucifixion may be Miller's masterpiece. It is an extended account of Miller's efforts to become a writer and relates his struggles, financial and spiritual, in detail. At the same time, it re-creates the tone and texture of Miller's environment, and brings alive his varied cronies. Written in a relaxed, naturalistic American prose, the book is at times uproariously funny, especially when Miller pokes bawdy fun at himself. Like Frank Harris' My Life and Loves, the volumes attempt to tell everything and some will be certain that Miller tells entirely too much. Whatever Miller's lapses in taste, he is always on the side of life and creativity; he rejoices in the simple fact that he is alive and experiencing. The trilogy belongs in every American literature collection."—Choice Books for College Libraries

Sexus BC-99/$1.25

Plexus BC-100/$1.25

Nexus BC-101/95¢

Quiet Days in Clichy

"A gentle bawdy reminiscence of Miller's earliest days in Paris . . . contains some of Miller's most remarkable prose. It is a pleasure book and can readily serve as an easy introduction to Miller's longer, more complex works."

—Choice Books for College Libraries

BC-98/75¢

The World of Sex

"This is a short, finely written autobiographical-philosophical statement on Miller's ideas on the subject of sex. It tellingly describes the difference in atmosphere between America and France. . . . The personal examples of sex will certainly create controversy among some. Still, this brief work belongs on the shelf with Havelock Ellis as an intelligent, humane pioneering study."

JOHN RECHY City of Night

"A remarkable book . . . there can be no doubt that City of Night should have been published and that it should be read . . . it has the unmistakable ring of candor and truth."—Peter Buitenhuis, The New York Times

B-1296/95¢

HUBERT SELBY, Jr. Last Exit to Brooklyn

"A serious work of literature . . . scorching, unrelenting, pulsing . . . One must be grateful to Selby and to Grove Press for believing in his fatal vision and strong, original talent."—Newsweek

B-4663/$1.25

STEPHEN SCHNECK    *The Nightclerk

The first American winner of the $10,000 international Formentor prize as the best novel submitted by publishers from thirteen countries. "Provocative, haunting... fantastic and shocking... a novel of considerable artistic merit."—Eliot Fremont-Smith, The New York Times. "The Nightclerk is the offspring of an unholy marriage between Vladimir Nabokov and William Burroughs. I see Stephen Schneck performing the blessings."—Herbert Gold 6376/95¢

ALEXANDER TROCCHI    *Cain's Book

A novel—"the genuine article on a dope addict's life."—New York Herald Tribune. "An astounding novel."—Kansas City Star. "Ferociously alive with poetry."—The New Yorker BC-2/50¢

DOUGLAS WOOLF    *Fade Out

A comic, picaresque novel. "Woolf is the most gifted writer that has yet appeared in the ranks of our much-publicized beat generation."—William Barrett, Atlantic Monthly. "Highly recommended."—Library Journal E-144/$1.75

AMERICAN LITERATURE—ANTHOLOGIES

New American Story

edited by DONALD M. ALLEN and ROBERT CREELEY

Various aspects of contemporary American life are here portrayed as seen through the eyes of such outstanding writers as William Burroughs, Jack Kerouac, Michael Rumaker, Robert Creeley, William Eastlake, Hubert Selby, Jr., Edward Dorn, LeRoi Jones, John Rechy, and Douglas Woolf. Each author has written his own biographical notes and a personal statement describing why and how he writes, his objectives and his methods. Includes an introduction by Professor Warren Tallman of the University of British Columbia. Donald Allen has compiled and edited The New American Poetry; Robert Creeley is on the staff of the University of Mexico. "As literature which reflects the potentialities of language and reflects life, the collection is excellent."—Choice Books for College Libraries BC-77/$1.45

CLASSIC WORLD LITERATURE

THE BOOK OF SONGS

Translated from the Chinese by Arthur Waley. One of the Five Confucian Classics and one of the most important collections of poetry in world literature, this collection is also known to Western audiences as The Odes, The Confucian Odes, and The Book of Poetry. Dating between 800 and 600 B.C., the songs are a source of inspiration for much Eastern philosophy. "Of all the translations, the highest achievement is Mr. Arthur Waley's rendering of The Book of Songs. The freshness and charm with which he has revived the folk life and movement of an Oriental race more than two thousand years back... is a triumph at once of poetry and scholarship."—The Observer

C. KERÉNYI The Heroes of the Greeks

Translated by Professor H. J. Rose. 76 plates. "The book as a whole is devoted to telling the tales in orderly, complete, and most interesting fashion. . . . All the variants are given, and full reference is made to the ancient literary sources. Kerényi has done a most complete job."—Samuel Lieberman, The Classical Outlook

E-345/$2.95

MATTHEW G. LEWIS The Monk

Introduction by John Berryman. "The first unexpurgated American edition of the novel, which, in addition to its own intrinsic value, has influenced the history of the European and American novel and stands today as an eminent example of an ethical-psychological problem very much under current discussion."—Wallace Fowle

E-163/$2.45

THE MARQUIS DE SADE

Justine and Other Writings

Compiled and translated by RICHARD SEAVER and AUSTRYN WAINHOUSE

Includes Justine, Philosophy in the Bedroom, Eugénie de Franval, as well as Sade's famous Dialogue Between a Priest and a Dying Man, a selection from his letters, a fifty-page chronology of his life, two important essays on Sade, and a bibliography of his work. "Culturally, it is a blessing... Because Sade is the ancestor of so much that occurs in modern literature, it is highly important that we have this authentic and definitive edition."—Professor Harry T. Moore. "A most important book. A courageous publication."—Professor Wallace Fowlie, Department of Romance Languages, Duke University

B-5407/$1.75

The 120 Days of Sodom and Other Writings

Compiled and translated by AUSTRYN WAINHOUSE and RICHARD SEAVER

In addition to The 120 Days of Sodom, a work many consider the cornerstone of his life's work, the present volume includes Sade's famous essay on the art of fiction, his play Oxtiern, and his novella, Ernestine, from which the play was drawn. As introductions, the editors have chosen Simone de Beauvoir's classic study, "Must We Burn Sade?" and Pierre Klossowski's essay which served as an introduction to the French edition of The 120 Days of Sodom. "Beautifully presented and translated, one of the most influential works of the last two hundred years and one of the most revealing psychological documents is, thanks to your press, made available to the American public."—Henri Peyre, Chairman, French Department, Yale University. Clothbound

GP-371/$15.00

WU CH'ENG-EN Monkey

Translated by Arthur Waley, this classic folk novel, one of the most popular books in the history of the Far East, is now available in its first accurate English version. "There is nothing quite like Monkey in Western literature. Imagine a combination of picaresque novel, fairy tale, fabliau, Mickey Mouse, Davy Crockett and Pilgrim's Progress; and then imagine if you can all these elements welded into an artistic whole so that no matter how fantastic the adventure or how enigmatic the allegory, the characterization and meaning remain always humble and realizable."—The Nation

E-112/$2.45

LI YÜ Jou Pu Tuan

A classic of Chinese erotic literature, Jou Pu Tuan, like its sister novel, The Golden Lotus (Chin P'ing Mei), tells the story of a brilliant young man who resolves to use his exceptional beauty and grace in a life of pure eroticism. Despite its date (the Ming period) and origin, Jou Pu Tuan has many of the characteristics of the modern Western novel.

BC-106/95¢

CONTEMPORARY WORLD LITERATURE

FYODOR ABRAMOV The New Life: A Day on a Collective Farm

Translated from the Russian and with introduction by George Reavey, this novel is "a startling indictment of the apathy, discontent and frustrating failure of collective farm life that still exists after more than four decades of Soviet rule."

—Time

SAMUEL BECKETT

The international success of the play Waiting for Godot won sudden fame for Samuel Beckett and drew attention to his prose works, including the group of novels below. "Beckett is one of the greatest prose writers of the century."

—London Times Literary Supplement

How It Is

First published in France in 1961, this novel was translated from the French by the author. "I am reasonably certain that a sensitive reader who journeys through How It Is will leave the book convinced that Beckett says more that is relevant to experience in our time than Shakespeare in Macbeth. It should come as no surprise if in a decade or so hence How It Is is appraised as a masterpiece of modern literature. This poetic novel is Beckett at his height."

—Webster Schott. "A wonderful book, written in the sparsest of prose . . . Beckett is one of the rare creative minds in our times."—Alan Pryce-Jones

E-388/$1.95

Murphy

A novel, written in English and first published in London in 1938. "The humor and tragedy of Murphy's search for his own self has been set down in the brilliant, highly individual style that also distinguishes Beckett's more recent work. The dialogue is pungent, often ribald, and the London and Dublin backgrounds are deftly drawn. Recommended for discriminating readers of contemporary fiction."

—Library Journal E-104/$1.95

Watt

Written in English in 1945 and first published in France in 1953. "Here we have a serious novel worthy of the highest praise. Mr. Beckett proves himself to be a formidable stylist in English, an acute dialectician and a distinguished wit . . . a fine novel, well worth meditating."—Gene Baro, New York Herald Tribune
E-152/$2.45

Three Novels: Molloy, Malone Dies, and The Unnamable

These three novels form a trilogy which has been acclaimed as a major contribution to the modern novel and has caused Beckett to be ranked along with Kafka and Joyce. Stephen Spender says of Beckett: "He is an incomparable spellbinder. He writes with a rhetoric and music that make a poet green with envy. . . . He is a serious writer with something serious to say about the human condition; and therefore one of the dozen or so writers whom those who are concerned with the modern man in search of his soul should read." Other comments: William Barrett, The New York Times Book Review: "Behind all his mournful blasphemies against man there is real love. And he is genuine: every sentence is written as if it had been lived." New York Herald Tribune Book Week: "There is not a word, a phrase, a sentence in this narrative that is not crystal clear, and in the simplest of English, or Irish idioms. . . . the immense tenderness, the heartbreaking revolt, the searing, despairing memories of the soul denied in vain . . . make this book an intense adventure." Stephen Longstreet, Los Angeles Free Press: "Here the novel is pushing at the outer skin of existence, expanding the idea of the novel in a new way. The style is amazing and if writing, pure writing, can hold you, this book will."
BC-78/$1.45

ANDREY BIELY St. Petersburg

When this novel was first published in 1913 in its native land, it opened up a new era in Russian letters, comparable to the change wrought in English writing by Joyce's Ulysses. "One of the four great masterpieces of twentieth-century prose."—Vladimir Nabokov. "Imagine a mixture of Rabelais and Dostoevski . . . and you have something of the flavor of this wonderful, grotesque, sad, wicked, and fabulous work."—Robert Payne, Saturday Review. Translated by John Cournos; foreword by George Reavey.
E-331/$2.45

JORGE LUIS BORGES Ficciones

Edited and with an introduction by Anthony Kerrigan. A collection of short fictional pieces by the Argentinian winner of the International Publishers Prize, whom Time calls "the greatest living writer in the Spanish language today." Saturday Review: "Borges' composed, carefully-wrought, gnarled style is at once the means of his art, and its object—his way of ordering and giving meaning to the bizarre and terrifying world he creates: it is a brilliant, burnished instrument, and it is quite adequate to the extreme demands his baroque imagination makes of it . . . absolutely and most vividly original."
E-368/$2.45

ANDRÉ BRETON Nadja

Translated from the French by Richard Howard, this novel was originally published in France in 1928 but never before available in English. Described as the first and perhaps the best Surrealist romance ever written, Nadja is a first person narrative supplemented by 44 photographs which form an integral part of the work.

E-253/$1.95

DRISS BEN HAMED CHARHADI and PAUL BOWLES

A Life Full of Holes

A work of fiction which is a unique source book on life among the Arabs of North Africa. The first novel ever produced in Moghrebi, a North African Arabic dialect, this book is the result of a collaboration between a well-known American author, Paul Bowles, and Driss ben Hamed Charhadi, a young, completely illiterate Arab. Charhadi "spoke" his tale into Bowles' tape recorder, and it was translated into English by Bowles. "A fascinating portrait."—The New York Times

H. D. (HILDA DOOLITTLE) Bid Me to Live

A thinly disguised roman à clef in which most of the leading members of London's Bloomsbury group are easily identified: D. H. Lawrence, his wife Frieda, Ezra Pound, English poet Richard Aldington, and H. D. herself. "A rare work of art . . . as timeless as E. E. Cummings' The Enormous Room."—Horace Gregory, Saturday Review

MARGUERITE DURAS

Four Novels

These four novels—The Square, Moderato Cantabile, 10:30 on a Summer Night, (from which the film, 10:30 P.M. Summer, was made), and The Afternoon of Mr. Andesmas—demonstrate the narrative skill and the psychological insight of one of France's foremost novelists. Introduction by Professor Germaine Brée of the University of Wisconsin. Each of the four novels, writes Professor Brée "reflects Marguerite Duras's major esthetic preoccupation: to shape a story so that it achieves an emotional intensity and unity that goes beyond the limits of the outer events related. Each is a particular embodiment of a fundamental human feeling . . . seen in relation to one another, they offer a remarkable range and variety in mood and situation. They share, too, a unique, elusive, poetic quality, the hallmark of Duras's originality." The Square is translated by Sonia Pitt-Rivers and Irina Morduch; Moderato Cantabile by Richard Seaver; 10:30 on a Summer Night and The Afternoon of Mr. Andesmas by Anne Borchardt.

The Ravishing of Lol Stein

In this novel, "Marguerite Duras writes brilliantly and strongly of characters who might have been observed in a mist on a seascape of quicksand . . . It is a story of rebuffed love and its consequences . . . The Duras language and writing throughout the book shine like crystal."—Genet, The New Yorker. Translated by Richard Seaver. Clothbound.

F. M. ESFANDIARY Identity Card

Within the framework of an absorbing and entertaining comic narrative about the struggles of a young, Westernized Iranian to replace his lost identity card, the author gives us a vivid picture of contemporary life in Iran, and conveys his profoundly serious comments on the human condition. Clothbound.

GP-377/$4.95

JEAN GENET Miracle of the Rose

First publication in English of the novel many French critics have acclaimed as Genet's finest work. "Genet would have deserved international standing for this book alone . . . he succeeds to an amazing degree in creating poetry from the profoundest degradation."—The Sunday Times (London)

Clothbound GP-357/$7.50

FRANK HARRIS My Life and Loves

"I predict Frank Harris' autobiography will continue to be read, not just for its sex (which can be found elsewhere), but as a picture of literary Europe and America in the first two decades of this century."—John Barkham, Saturday Review Syndicate

B-6200/$1.65

ALFRED JARRY Selected Works

edited by ROGER SHATTUCK and SIMON WATSON TAYLOR

Includes the complete translation by Watson Taylor of Exploits and Opinions of Doctor Faustroll, Pataphysician; Cyril Connolly's translation of Ubu Cocu, with original illustrations by Siné; poems; essays; satirical sketches; excerpts from two other novels. 32 pages of illustrations. "Wonderful, delightfully exacerbating, extremely representative collection . . . Right on the button. A joy."—Virginia Kirkus

SLAWOMIR MROZEK The Elephant

A collection of devastating satirical sketches by a Polish writer who, "while taking deadly aim at the bureaucrats in his own society, has as his targets man's foibles everywhere. "Truly brilliant satire . . . strongly recommended."—Gilbert Highet; "Brilliant . . . the writer is an Aesop for our times"—Publishers' Weekly. "More than 40 fables of wonderful verve and wit."—New York Herald Tribune; "Mrozek's brief fables are like Kafka, but they are funnier and recorded at one remove from life instead of two."—London Spectator. Translated by Konrad Syrop. Illustrated by Daniel Mroz.

BC-104/95¢

ANDRÉ PIEYRE DE MANDIARGUES

"Author of more than 20 books of fiction, poetry, and art criticism, Mandiargues emerges now, after a long period of neglect, as one of the most talented contemporary French writers."—Choice Books for College Libraries

The Motorcycle

Translated from the French by Richard Howard. "With its unique mixture of eroticism and mythology, of surrealism and nouveau roman, it reads like a poem of speed and violence, an allegory of love and death. One of the best novels from France in recent years."—Choice Books for College Libraries

Z-1001/$95¢

ROBERT PINGET    Monsieur Levert

Translated from the French by Richard Howard. A native of Paris and leading exponent of the "new novel," Robert Pinget has published several novels, and his dramatic adaptation of Monsieur Levert, called Dead Letter, was recently performed in Paris on the same program with Samuel Beckett's Krapp's Last Tape. "There are few contemporary novels as provoking as this one."—Jean Cathelin

E-281/$1.95

RAYMOND RADIGUET    Count D'Orgel

"Radiguet died at the age of 20, in 1923, and his few works, though late arrivals, are presenting him progressively to the American public for the genius he undoubtedly was, Count d'Orgel . . . is a stately saraband, lovely in proportion and content, witty, light but with an inevitable backdrop of sorrow."—New York Times Book Review. Preface by Jean Cocteau. Translated by Violet Schiff.

ALAIN ROBBE-GRILLET

"Robbe-Grillet is a writer with a theory of the novel and a new approach to the craft of story-telling, the most interesting perhaps of a small group of French novelists who are attempting to open up new paths for fiction.—Germaine Brée, Saturday Review. "Robbe-Grillet will take his place in world literature as a successor of Balzac and Proust."—Parade of Books

The Erasers

Translated by Richard Howard. Robbe-Grillet's first novel, The Erasers is considered one of the seminal works of European fiction of the postwar era. Although it may be read as a detective story, The Erasers yields its true riches when viewed as a major existentialist work by a brilliant and complex artist who is commenting on the human condition, incorporating a set of parallels drawn from the Oedipus story. "An unusual story, full of rewards."—Harry T. Moore, St. Louis Post Dispatch. "An arresting and mystifying novel"—Clark Kinnaird, King Features Syndicate

E-392/$1.95

La Maison de Rendez-vous

A bestseller in France, this is an exciting and absorbing mystery novel dealing with murder, sex, money, beautiful girls, and an exotic setting (Hong Kong). It also permits each reader to construct his own thriller based on Robbe-Grillet's images and hints. Translated by Richard Howard. "A new literary entertainment, and a poetic, amusing, captivating book."—Marc Slonim, The New York Times Book Review. Clothbound.

GP-369/$4.50

Two Novels: Jealousy and In the Labyrinth

Here, in one volume, are two remarkable novels by the chief spokesman of the so-called "new novel" which has caused much discussion and aroused much controversy during the past decade. "Jealousy, said The New York Times Book Review, "is a technical masterpiece, impeccably contrived." In France, Maurice Nadeau wrote in France-Observateur that "In the Labyrinth is better than an excellent novel: it is a great work of literature." Both novels are translated from the French by Richard Howard. The volume includes incisive essays on Robbe-Grillet by Professor Bruce Morrisette of the University of Chicago and by French critics Roland Barthes and Anne Minor, together with a bibliography of writings by and about the author. BC-69/$1.65

The Voyeur

Translated from the French by Richard Howard. Originally published as Le Voyeur in 1955, in which year it won the Prix des Critiques. This novel exemplifies in structure and meaning the new approach to fiction that has made the author a leader of the new generation of French writers. E-121/$2.25

KHUSHWANT SINGH Train to Pakistan (Mano Majra)

A novel of India and Pakistan. "Khushwant Singh brings to Train to Pakistan both the outstanding qualities that he showed in his previous books—an ability to tell a compelling story and a deep knowledge of the Sikhs in particular and of the life of the Punjab in general."—S. R. Rau, The New York Times Book Review BC-1/$1.25

AMOS TUTUOLA The Palm-Wine Drinkard

A novel from Africa, "this is the brief, thronged, grisly and bewitching story, written in young English by a West African, about the journey of an expert and devoted palm-wine drinkard through a nightmare of indescribable adventures."—Dylan Thomas. "Only a dullard who has buried his childhood under several mountains of bestselling prose could fail to respond to Tutuola's naive poetry." The New York Times Book Review E-328/$1.45

MIGUEL DE UNAMUNO Three Exemplary Novels

Translation from the Spanish by Angel Flores. New introduction by Angel del Rio, head of the Spanish Department at Columbia University. Includes The Marquis of Lumbria, Two Mothers, Nothing Less Than a Man. E-30/$1.95

WORLD LITERATURE—ANTHOLOGIES

Anthology of Chinese Literature:

From Early Times to the Fourteenth Century

edited by CYRIL BIRCH; DONALD KEENE, associate editor

One of the most comprehensive anthologies of Chinese literature ever published in the English language, this volume encompasses a 2,000-year period, from the Chou Dynasty (1122-221 B.C.) to the Yüan Dynasty (1280-1367 A.D.). It represents all the major genres, from the ancient Songs, reputedly compiled by Confucius himself, to the drama of the fourteenth century. Highlights include, in addition to the great poems of the T'ang, outstanding examples of Han poetry, Six Dynasties satire, T'ang-Sung prose essays and fiction, and the form of lyric known as "tz'u." "The first true anthology in English of Chinese literature, [it] is enjoyable, informative and, last but not least, readable to the student and the general reader alike."—Library Journal. Clothbound.

GP-337/$10.00

Anthology of Japanese Literature:

From the Earliest Era to the Mid-Nineteenth Century

compiled, edited, and with an introduction by DONALD KEENE

Table of Contents: Ancient Period (to 794 A.D.); Heian Period (794-1185); Kamakura Period (1185-1333); Muromachi Period (1333-1600); Tokugawa Period (1600-1868); Bibliography. "The variety in Anthology of Japanese Literature is enormous. But the qualities that make it impressive far more than its bulk are that it is easy to read; that it is also enlightening and instructive; that it is rewarding on its most superficial or its profoundest level."—Faubion Bowers, Saturday Review. "This book is the first comprehensive collection of the riches of Japanese writing ever offered in English, and it would be difficult to conceive of a more satisfactory one."—The New Yorker

Japanese Literature: An Introduction for Western Readers

by DONALD KEENE

Table of Contents: Introduction; Japanese Poetry; The Japanese Theatre; The Japanese Novel; Japanese Literature Under Western Influence; Selected Bibliography; Index. "This acute and delightfully written book is long overdue. It will replace at once Aston's half-century-old and long obsolete work as the only convenient source of information on Japanese literature in English . . . the book is at once a brief history of the literature and a guide to the critical understanding of it."—Books Abroad

POETRY

SAMUEL BECKETT Poems in English

This volume brings together those poems in English which the author is willing to preserve. "Poems of gimlet reflection, they lash at untruth and cant with the fangs of truth, a seeming anti-poetry of parody, travesty and rage. The first dramatic monologue, Whoroscope (1930), both parodies The Waste Land and its use of notes and indicts the angelism of Descartes. The following poems, 13 in number under the head Echo's Bones, indict contemporary man's failure of his tradition. Closing the volume are four pure lyrics in both French and English, lovely beyond loveliness. Most highly recommended."—Herbert Burke, Assoc. Prof. of English, St. John's Univ., Library Journal E-379/$1.45

Manual of Piety (Die Hauspostille)

A bilingual edition with translations and preface by Eric Bentley, Brecht's leading interpreter in English, and notes by Hugo Schmidt of the German literature department of Bryn Mawr College which place each poem in its historical and literary context. A landmark in the literature of twentieth-century Europe, Manual of Piety is described by Prof. Bentley in his preface as "one of the best of all books of modern poems and certainly it is Bertolt Brecht's best book of poems." It is composed of fifty ballads, lyrics, and satires which include, among others, many of the ballads from Brecht's best-known stage works, such as The Threepenny Opera, Mahagonny, Baal, and Drums in the Night. Clothbound.

GP-368/$10.00

Selected Poems of Bertolt Brecht

A bilingual edition with English translation and introduction by H. R. Hays. The selection here ranges from his early Die Hauspostille, first published in 1927, with its romantic bitterness expressed in such masterful poems as Concerning the Infanticide, Marie Farrar, to his late Song, Poem and Choruses. It includes many scathing songs and ballads from his stage work, among them The Threepenny Opera, Mahagonny, and others.

E-187/$1.95

CATULLUS The Poems of Catullus

Translated and with an introduction by Horace Gregory, this is a twentieth-century English version of Catullus' poems. "By escaping the limitations of 'Anglo-classical' convention, and by employing newer techniques, Gregory did succeed in coming closer to Catullus' poetic personality than earlier translators."—M. L. Rosenthal, Associate Professor of English at N. Y. U., Accent

E-29/$1.95

E. E. CUMMINGS 100 Selected Poems

A new selection spanning Cummings' long and spectacular career. Harvested from 35 of the most productive and significant years in contemporary American poetry, this work is indispensable for every student of modern lyrical verse.

E-190/$1.75

H. D. (HILDA DOOLITTLE)

Helen in Egypt

Introduction by Horace Gregory. "The poem itself may be described as a sustained meditation of great seriousness and beauty... it is a very fine achievement indeed."—The New York Times Book Review. "The wedding of the intellect and the emotions... carries in its wake a sensuous beauty of imagery; the right word always conveys her design... many a line will haunt the memory."—Library Journal

E-375/$2.45

Selected Poems of H. D.

These selected poems demonstrate the enduring quality of H. D.'s lyricism. "H. D. in her perceptions of timelessness, and in her search for the 'real,' has always seemed to be writing in advance of her times. In that respect the present generation might well regard her as 'a poet's poet.'... Of contemporary poets H. D. is among the few whose writings are likely to endure."—Horace Gregory

E-71/$1.95

EDWARD FIELD Stand Up, Friend, With Me

A collection of poems that won the 1962 Lamont Poetry Award sponsored by the Academy of American Poets. "Field's is an authentic American voice—wisely young, disaffected, angrily loving, always meaning far more than it seems to say. Recommended most highly for all poetry collections."—Herbert Burke, Assoc. Prof. of English, St. John's Univ., Library Journal

E-382/$1.45

HAN-SHAN Cold Mountain

100 poems by the T'ang poet Han-shan, translated and with an introduction by Burton Watson. The poems are as much an allegory of spiritual quest and attainment as a record of the life of a ragged hermit who became one of the Immortals. Clothbound.

GP-281/$2.95

LEROI JONES The Dead Lecturer

A representative collection of poems by one of the most talented and versatile young American writers. The works range from short lyrics such as Style and Titles, to the major poems such as Crow Jane and A Poem for Willie Best. "Unquestionably a writer possessed of a fierce and blazing talent."—New York Herald Tribune

E-386/$1.45

KENNETH KOCH

Thank You and Other Poems

The work which won for Kenneth Koch a nomination for the 1963 National Book Award. This is the first sizable collection of his poetry and includes work written over the past ten years. The poems deal with subjects ranging from the biography of an imaginary jazz musician to the diary of a contemporary painter, from the pleasures of love and weather to the horrors of military life on a tropical island.

FEDERICO GARCIA LORCA Poet in New York

A bilingual edition. The complete Spanish text, with a new translation by Ben Belitt and an introduction by Angel del Rio. Here Mr. Belitt provides the definitive text of a work previously available only in provisional form. Mr. del Rio, Lorca's countryman and biographer, examines the importance of this work, and an appendix of poems, essays, prose pieces and a critical chronology describing the manuscript's discovery provide invaluable insights into the poet's development.

E-54/$1.95

PABLO NERUDA    Selected Poems

A bilingual edition, edited and translated by Ben Belitt, with introduction by Luis Monguió. "One of the greatest poets of the Spanish world . . . also one of the major poets of the twentieth century . . . robust, Whitmanesque surrealism surges forth like a jungle river . . . Ben Belitt's translations are inspired."—The New York Times Book Review. "We are not likely to get, in English, a more detailed, subtle, and sympathetic analysis of the complicated and enigmatic Pablo Neruda than the introduction by Luis Monguió."—The New Yorker      E-364/$2.95

CHARLES OLSON    The Distances

Charles Olson has come to be regarded as a major American poet by many leading literary figures, including William Carlos Williams. His long poem, The Kingfishers, has had a lasting influence on the development of verse in America during the past fifteen years. Olson has taught at Clark, Harvard, and Black Mountain College.      E-274/$1.75

ANDREI VOZNESENSKY

Selected Poems

Edited, translated, and with an introduction by Anselm Hollo. The first collection of poems in English by the young Soviet poet who is generally regarded as the most gifted of the new generation of Russian writers.      E-400/$1.95

POETRY—ANTHOLOGIES

Modern German Poetry: 1910-1960

edited and with an introduction by MICHAEL HAMBURGER and
CHRISTOPHER MIDDLETON

A bilingual anthology with the German original and English verse translations. Arranged in chronological order, this collection affords a definitive survey of the development of German verse in our time. Among the 56 poets represented are Hans Arp, Ingeborg Bachmann, Hugo Ball, Gottfried Benn, Bertolt Brecht, Paul Celan, Günter Grass, Erich Kästner, Alfred Lichtenstein, Christian Morgenstern, Rainer Marie Rilke, and Georg Trakl.      E-377/$2.95

New American Poetry

edited by DONALD M. ALLEN

The collection presents the work of 44 poets and includes such major poems as Charles Olson's The Kingfishers, Allen Ginsberg's Howl, and Robert Duncan's A Poem Beginning With a Line by Pindar. In all, this volume contains some 215 poems culled from the most authentic and interesting new poetic voices. Also included are statements by the poets themselves, biographical notes, and a bibliography. Donald Allen's preface places the new American poetry in its proper historical setting.      E-237/$2.95

LITERARY CRITICISM, SURVEYS, AND BIOGRAPHIES

Albert Camus: A Study of His Work

by PHILIP THODY

Philip Thody here gives an assessment of Camus' accomplishments, interpreting in detail The Stranger, The Myth of Sisyphus, The Plague, and The Fall, as well as his plays and other writings. Includes a complete bibliography. "A clearly-written, intelligent assessment of Camus' achievement . . . the first honest attempt to interpret Camus in terms of the Anglo-Saxon tradition . . . Mr. Thody has in his critical equipment a clear style, a sense of the relative importance of the various works of the author and a real appreciation of Camus' major productions."—Vernon Hall, Jr., New York Herald Tribune E-143/$1.45

For a New Novel: Essays on Fiction

by ALAIN ROBBE-GRILLET

A group of essays in which the leading exponent of the "new novel" gives his views on current literary trends and discusses how contemporary literature can provide new forms capable of expressing or creating new relationships between man and the world around him. "The most provocative, original, searching, and clearly stated examination of the art of the novel that we have had in years and years. . . . It shows the possibilities of the novel, and possible ways of thinking about the novel . . . I doubt that fiction as an art can any longer be seriously discussed without reference to Robbe-Grillet."—Eliot Fremont-Smith, The New York Times BC-112/$1.65

The Intelligent Heart: The Life of D. H. Lawrence

by HARRY T. MOORE

ART

W. G. ARCHER The Loves of Krishna

One of the great themes of Indian painting is the story of Krishna, the divine lover in the "Bhagavad Gita." In The Loves of Krishna, an outstanding authority on the Far East provides a key to the painting by retelling this enchanting story for the Western reader. Illustrated with 40 reproductions of Indian paintings, with an interpretation of the characters and action given for each. "The paintings are so much more meaningful and impressive after the text has been read that Mr. Archer's experiment can only be called a brilliant success."—The New Yorker

E-124/$1.95

DORE ASHTON Philip Guston

The development of Guston's work is carefully traced by text and illustration, from the early figurative paintings to the more recent abstract canvases. Illustrated with 12 color plates and 22 black and white reproductions.

E-196/$1.95

RUDI BLESCH Stuart Davis

A survey of the life and work of the famous American abstract artist. In his desire to celebrate the mundane objects of everyday life—egg beaters and percolators, electric fans and rubber gloves—Davis has developed a style of painting which has been called a "visual analogue of the polyphony of jazz horns." 12 color plates; 36 black and white illustrations.

E-199/$1.95

GEORGE GROSZ Ecce Homo

The famous volume of drawings and watercolors by the man whom Edmund Wilson has called "the greatest of the satirical artists." A facsimile edition of the 1923 Malik-Verlag original volume which has long since become a collector's item on the rare book market, the present work also contains a newly-written introduction by Henry Miller. 16 color plates; 84 black and white plates; oversized volume, 10¼ by 13 inches. "One of the most important art books of the year."—Library Journal. Clothbound.

GP-380/$15.00

COLETTE ROBERTS    Mark Tobey

An authoritative critique of one of the pioneers of abstract expressionism and the first American artist since Whistler to win the Grand International Prize for painting at the Venice Biennale. 12 color plates and 5 black and white illustrations show the wide range of his talent. Included are Sumi paintings, inkwashes, black and whites, his original "white writings," and murals.

E-181/$1.95

HAROLD ROSENBERG    Arshile Gorky: The Man, the Time, the Idea

In tracing Gorky's development, Rosenberg discusses the social and political background of the painter's life and thought, from his embattled apprenticeship in Greenwich Village through his sudden rise to fashionable Connecticut and the international art set, to his end in suicide motivated by illness, jealousy, and despair in 1948. 45 illustrations, 4 in full color. "A generalized discussion of the modern American artist in relation to his society . . . invaluable."—Dore Ashton

LANGDON WARNER    The Enduring Art of Japan

Mr. Warner first presents an informal survey of the history and personalities, the culture, and the religion of Japan from their beginnings through the middle of the eighteenth century, revealing the rich variety of arts and crafts that expressed the changing times. He then interprets three aspects of the national art: folk art, the development of the shorthand convention in painting, and the transcendental force of Zen Buddhism and its expression in the art of gardens and the ceremony of tea. Illustrated with 92 half-tone plates. "Practically a 'must' for anyone interested in Japan."—H. G. Henderson, The New York Times

E-97/$1.95

MUSIC AND DANCE

ANDRÉ HODEIR

André Hodeir is a musicologist and critic, as well as a practicing musician. He has, in the words of Nat Hentoff, "set the highest criteria of jazz writing ever reached." "Hodeir is one of the most brilliant, provocative and opinionated writers in the history of jazz."—Leonard Feather

Jazz: Its Evolution and Essence

"Not only the finest work on jazz I have read, but an aesthetic exercise of such range and quality as to make it required reading for anyone who looks for a broad musical understanding."—Wilder Hobson, Saturday Review. "The best analytical book on jazz ever written."—Downbeat. "A brilliant study."—The New York Times

BC-3/$1.25

Toward Jazz

This book is divided into chapters on jazzmen, criticism, group relations (band environment), works (records), listening notes (well-known solos), and a final chapter on the prospects of jazz. "It seems likely that this book will have as much influence on musical and critical directions of jazz as Jazz: Its Evolution and Essence had. The range of Hodeir's knowledge, his sensibility, and the intelligence he brings into play as he focuses on various phenomena of jazz is too great for this to be otherwise."—Gilbert M. Erskine, Downbeat

E-383/$1.95

DORIS HUMPHREY The Art of Making Dances

The Art of Making Dances presents modern dance as theater. It contains a short history of the dance and various chapters discuss design, dynamics, and rhythm of dance. It includes a check list for composers of dances and an appendix of all the dances composed by Miss Humphrey. "I love it and study it and recommend it."—Agnes de Mille

E-351/$1.95

PHILOSOPHY AND RELIGION

WILLIAM BARRETT What Is Existentialism?

The author of Irrational Man and one of the nation's leading authorities on existentialism here provides a comprehensive introduction to a major philosophy of our time. Part 1 of this volume reprints a revised version of Professor Barrett's famous Partisan Review pamphlet, which played a large part in popularizing existentialism in America. Part 2 contains a comprehensive exposition of one of the most important existentialist thinkers, Heidegger. "The book in its entirety is a remarkable goad to the contemporary mind and spirit—Newsweek. "Makes philosophy a living concern, not a technical exercise."—Baltimore Sun. William Barrett is Professor of Philosophy at New York University.

ERNST BREISACH Introduction to Modern Existentialism

A clear, comprehensive, and authoritative introduction to this important philosophy. The great changes in Western man's outlook in recent years serve Dr. Breisach as an indispensable backdrop for his account: the rise of totalitarian politics, the shaking of faith in science, the Freudian revolution with its emphasis on the unconscious, and the display of the unconscious and the irrational in modern art and literature. Against this background, Dr. Breisach explains the thinking of the existentialists from Kierkegaard to Sartre—Nietzsche, Heidegger, Jaspers, Tillich, Marcel, Buber, Berdyaev—including brief biographical sketches describing the personal development of each writer. Dr. Breisach, who holds doctorates from the University of Vienna and the Hochschule für Welthandel in Vienna, is a professor at Western Michigan University.

D. T. SUZUKI

Daisetz Teitaro Suzuki was a leading world authority on Zen Buddhism. Born in Japan in 1870, he received his training as a Buddhist disciple at the great Zen monastery at Kamakura. He is the author of more than 100 works on Zen and Buddhism in both Japanese and English.

An Introduction to Zen Buddhism

A basic text for the general reader interested in understanding Zen. Continually drawing on his extraordinary knowledge of Oriental and Western cultures, philosophies, and religions, Suzuki illustrates each concept of Zen with concrete examples abounding in wit and wisdom. In his foreword, C. G. Jung writes: "Suzuki's works on Zen Buddhism are among the best contributions to the knowledge of living Buddhism that recent decades have produced . . . We cannot be sufficiently grateful to the author." BC-66/95¢

Essays in Zen Buddhism (First Series)

Table of Contents: Introduction; Zen as Chinese Interpretation of the Doctrine of Enlightenment; Enlightenment and Ignorance; History of Zen Buddhism from Bodhidharma to Hui-Neng (Yeno); On Satori—The Revelation of a New Truth in Zen Buddhism; Practical Methods of Zen Instruction; The Meditation Hall and the Ideals of the Monkish Discipline; The Ten Cow-Herding Pictures; Index. E-309/$2.95

Manual of Zen Buddhism

D. T. Suzuki has compiled this anthology from the most important original sources, the Zen texts themselves. In addition to the written selections, there are reproductions of many Buddhist drawings and paintings, including religious statues found in Zen temples, each with an explanation of its significance, and the great series of allegorical paintings, the Ten Oxherding Pictures. E-231/$1.95

D. T. SUZUKI, ERICH FROMM, and RICHARD DE MARTINO Zen Buddhism and Psychoanalysis

This book represents the first important attempt to bring Zen Buddhism and psychoanalysis together. Erich Fromm, one of today's most widely-read and influential psychoanalysts, is joined by D. T. Suzuki, the leading authority on Zen in the West, and Richard de Martino, of Otani University in Kyoto, a close student of both fields, in this stimulating discussion linking the Eastern and Western doctrines. E-360/$1.95

ALAN W. WATTS The Spirit of Zen: A Way of Life, Work, and Art in the Far East

In this new and revised edition of his famous book, Mr. Watts gives his readers a comprehensive view of the world of meaning behind Zen, from its beginnings in ancient India and its later transmission to China and Japan, to a revealing description of life in a contemporary Japanese Zen monastery. Includes glossary, index, and eight full-page plates. E-219/$1.75

SOCIOLOGY, HISTORY AND ANTHROPOLOGY

HANSON W. BALDWIN    World War I

A compact history of World War I by the military analyst for The New York Times. Brief and clear, it surveys all the theaters of the war and includes maps of the major battle areas. A final chapter discusses the aftermath of victory and defeat, the costs of world conflict, the military lessons, and the political results.

BC-47/$1.25

ZEVEDEI BARBU    Democracy and Dictatorship: Their Psychology and Patterns of Life

A study of the conditions that give rise to the development of democracy, Nazism, and Communism, and of the characteristic differences in the lives of individuals living under the various systems. Using history as his main source of information, the author examines democracy and totalitarianism from both the psychological and sociological viewpoints.

A. L. BASHAM    The Wonder That Was India

A survey of the culture of the Indian sub-continent before the coming of the Muslims. Dr. Basham relates the class, the family and the individual to the complex structure of early Indian society and, in a detailed treatment of the religions of India, includes all the minor sects which splintered off Hinduism and Buddhism. A wide-ranging discussion of language and literature in India contains many original translations from the classical languages. The twelve appendices which follow the text deal with such topics as astronomy, medicine, the calendar, weight, measures and the origin of the gypsies. A pictorial record of ancient India is offered in the more than 200 half-tone illustrations, many never before published, and in the numerous line drawings and maps. The book is fully indexed and contains a bibliography and references. "This is absolutely the best book on Hindu India the reviewer has seen in more than a decade. The style is lucid and makes for easy reading. Altogether a most informative and highly enjoyable book."—Dr. John L. Mish. An Evergreen Encyclopedia. E-145/$4.95

HAL DRAPER Berkeley: The New Student Revolt

Introduction by Mario Savio. A leading participant tells for the first time the complete story of "the largest-scale war between students and administration ever seen in the U.S." "Should be available in all libraries and is required reading for anyone remotely involved with American higher education."—Library Journal BC-103/95¢

FRANTZ FANON Black Skin, White Masks

The author of The Wretched of the Earth here presents a passionate exposition of his feelings and thoughts about the experiences of a black man in a white world. The focus of the book is on the psychological problems, the warping of the Negro psyche by colonial conditioning to a more powerful white culture (with reference to the particular problems of Africa and the United States). Translated by Charles Lam Markmann. Clothbound. GP-390/

The Wretched of the Earth

Preface by Jean-Paul Sartre. Translated by Constance Farrington. The famous study of the problems of racism and colonialism in the world today. "Must be read by all who wish to understand what it means to fight for freedom, equality and dignity."—Alex Quaison-Sackey, President, U.N. General Assembly. "It is highly important for any Western reader who wants to understand the emotional forces behind the anticolonial revolution."—Time E-390/$1.95

LAWRENCE K. FRANK The Conduct of Sex

"The first book that really presents a view of sex and sexual behavior which is in harmony with both the findings of science and the contemporary realities."—Ashley Montagu. "This book . . . is full of wisdom and is highly recommended to the layman and to the general physician—and the psychiatrist, too, will enjoy its warmth and its beautiful literary style."—Current Medical Digest BC-52/60¢

JOHN G. FULLER The Gentlemen Conspirators

This is the story of the price-fixing, bid-rigging, and market-slicing in the electrical industry which led to jail sentences for seven top executives in 1961. "A disturbing, absorbing, and important book. Mr. Fuller has vividly re-created one of the great tragedies of our time."—Vance Packard BC-39/60¢

NELSON GLUECK Rivers in the Desert: A History of the Negev

One of the world's foremost archeologists here recaptures the Biblical past in a story of scientific exploration which immediately was recognized as a classic in its field. Dr. Glueck discovered, excavated, and mapped hundreds of lost settlements in the Israeli desert known as the Negev. He found Solomon's copper mines and his lost port on the Red Sea; and he tracked down the probable land route that Moses and his people took through the Negev before reaching the Promised Land. "This book is engrossing. Written with profound knowledge and deep love of its subject, Rivers in the Desert is obviously one of the great works on Palestinian exploration . . . this volume is of major importance in its field."—The Christian Science Monitor E-206/$3.95

ROBERT L. HEILBRONER The Future as History

Adopted by more than 300 colleges and universities, this analysis of the forces at work in the modern world and where they are taking us is one of the most widely-hailed books of recent years. Clear, convincing, and comprehensive, Heilbroner's survey illuminates the headline-making events of our times: the impact of the Bomb, the drift away from capitalism, the challenge of Communism, the need for social planning, the wrath of the under-developed nations, and the possibilities before America. "A masterly discussion of the revolutions of our century . . . excellently written in a sinewy and fast-moving style . . . It is so good it deserves more than praise."—Sidney Hook. "With a sure hand and many an arresting insight, Mr. Heilbroner sketches the forces that are determining the environment of tomorrow."—Eric F. Goldman. "I was deeply impressed by The Future as History. Heilbroner is one of the most interesting social analysts of the Western World."—C. P. Snow E-324/$1.95

FERNANDO HENRIQUES Prostitution and Society

A clear, highly readable, and scholarly account of various forms of prostitution in every society from the most primitive to the highly sophisticated. Among the types of prostitutes through the ages whose role Dr. Henriques examines are the temple prostitute, the courtesan, the cocotte, and the streetwalker. He discusses the pander and the pimp as social types, and analyzes such problems as nymphomania, loneliness, and financial gain as they relate to prostitution. Z-1003/95¢

CALVIN C. HERNTON Sex and Racism in America

A bold, candid discussion of the sexual fears, guilts, and anxieties which are major factors in racial prejudice. "One of the most brutally frank and impressively realistic volumes that has ever been written in its field."—Christian Herald. "No other writer has as yet had the temerity to so frankly tackle that old bugaboo, S-E-X, as it relates to life, liberty, and the pursuit of integration."—Langston Hughes BC-113/95¢

JANHEINZ JAHN Muntu: An Outline of the New African Culture

The author of Through African Doors here portrays for the Western reader the whole range of traditional and new African thought expressed in religion, language, philosophy, literature, art, music, and dance. He tells what happens in the encounter between Christian and African cultures, using these examples to introduce the underlying principles of African philosophy. "Jahn's Muntu is must reading for all who are concerned with the future of Africa and the world. It is also a rare piece of scholarship in its own right on the cultural past and present of possibly the most misunderstood people in today's world."—Peter Abrahams, The New York Times Book Review E-332/$2.45

JEREMY LARNER and RALPH TEFFERTELLER   The Addict in the Street

Youngsters trapped in the world of dope tell their moving stories in their own words. "Nothing previously published so vividly and factually describes the mental reactions, social patterns and pathological behavior of young addicts."
—Saturday Review. Z-1004/95¢

ROBERT S. LYND   Knowledge for What? The Place of Social Science in American Culture

Are social scientists to find themselves, in Auden's phrase, "lecturing on navigation while the ship is going down?" Or will they employ their special knowledge and insight to help save mankind? This is the dilemma posed by Dr. Lynd in his classic Knowledge for What? in which he stresses the social obligations of science. Dr. Lynd is Professor Emeritus of Sociology at Columbia University and internationally-famed as the author (with Helen Merrell) of Middletown and Middletown in Transition. "A book of long perspective and stimulating suggestions. It should be mandatory reading for anyone working in the social sciences. It is good reading for all civilized people who hope that the scientific method can help to save a combustible world from ignition."
—Stuart Chase. "Every working social scientist in America should get this book and wrestle with it as with his own naked conscience. For while Lynd has written the most searching volume in the annals of self criticism in American social science, he has also staked out the most spacious claims for the possibilities of social thinking—nothing short of the reconstruction of our culture."
—Max Lerner, The New Republic BC-74/$1.45

THE AUTOBIOGRAPHY OF MALCOLM X

"A strong diagnosis of America's racial sickness in one Negro's odyssey... Essential reading for anyone who wants to understand the plight of American Negroes."
—Bayard Rustin, Book Week. "This extraordinary autobiography... is a brilliant, painful, important book... as a document of our time, its insights may be crucial; its relevance cannot be doubted."
—Eliot Fremont-Smith, The New York Times. With the assistance of Alex Haley and epilogue by Mr. Haley. Introduction by M. S. Handler. 5174/95¢

MALCOLM X SPEAKS

The major speeches of one of the most important leaders of the Negro revolution, who was also one of the great orators of our time. Each speech is introduced by a note giving the setting. Selected statements, interviews, and letters by Malcolm X are also included. Edited and with prefatory notes by George Breitman. BC-125/95¢

KARL MANNHEIM   Systematic Sociology: An Introduction to the Study of Society

One of this century's leading sociologists here presents a consistent, meaningful theory of man and society, using the findings of both modern psychology and sociology. He links our knowledge of instincts, emotions, and elementary drives of the individual to the complex structures which are the objects of historical and political sociology. Part 1 deals with man and his psychic equipment; Part 2 analyzes the social forms and processes which either bring people together or isolate them from each other; Part 3 concentrates on the problems of human integration, and describes the various forms of "living together"; Part 4 discusses the notions of stability and change. Edited by J. S. Eros and W. A. C. Stewart. E-384/$1.75

C. WRIGHT MILLS The Sociological Imagination

The author of White Collar and The Power Elite contends here that science and technology, unrestrained by moral considerations, pose an increasing threat to those basic human values on which democracy must be founded. Mills calls upon social science to fulfill its true function by reasserting social over technological values in human society. "Performs an essential task in the service of intellectual lucidity and truth."—American Scholar. "An important book . . . it deserves to have an influence far outside the field of formal sociology."—Manchester Guardian. "The critique is hard-hitting, cogent, clearly put, and at times brilliant."—Spectator E-286/$1.95

ASHLEY MONTAGU The Humanization of Man: Our Changing Conception of Human Nature

Anthropologist, social biologist, author of more than two dozen books, Ashley Montagu offers in this volume a definitive summing up of four decades of penetrating insight into the nature of society, of the individual, and of their interaction. His particular and long-standing concern with race receives special development. Among the subjects discussed are freedom and the individual, culture and mental illness, human nature and religion, science and love, marriage, the family, the American woman, the beat generation, the social problems of an aging population, The Bomb. Dr. Montagu's approach throughout stresses the educability of man and the adaptability of human nature, from which he derives the hope for survival and progress. BC-63/$1.75

OCTAVIO PAZ The Labyrinth of Solitude: Life and Thought in Mexico

Translated from the Spanish by Lysander Kemp. One of the major poets of our time, a Mexican himself, here probes and defines the character and culture of his own nation in a series of brilliant essays. "The most penetrating study of our baffling neighbor that this reviewer has yet seen in English."—Daniel James, Saturday Review. "Without any doubt the most important statement of the Hispanic intelligentsia since The Revolt of the Masses."—France-Observateur E-359/$1.95

CECIL J. SCHNEER The Evolution of Physical Science

Originally published as The Search for Order, this work presents the basic ideas of physics, chemistry, astronomy, geology, and mathematics as they developed from the days of Greek scientific rationalism to the present. "The author is to be congratulated . . . In the hands of a good teacher this book could be an excellent text for a course in the physical sciences . . . should be read and 'browsed' by every high school science and by every college teacher as well. It should be in every science teacher's personal library . . . and can be commended for study by every intelligent reader."—Dean William H. Powers, Pennsylvania State University

BC-67/$1.95

EDGAR SNOW Red Star Over China

Widely hailed as one of the masterpieces of modern journalism this eye-witness account of the formative years of Chinese Communism was quickly recognized as a classic—and is now one of the basic source books of contemporary Chinese history. It includes Mao Tse-tung's autobiography as taken down by the author in conversation with the Chinese leader. This edition contains a new introduction by Dr. John K. Fairbank.

BC-8/$1.75

LESLIE A. WHITE The Science of Culture: A Study of Man and Civilization

In what The New York Times calls a "beautifully-written" book, the development of the science of culturology is described from its beginnings in 1871. After tracing the growth of science from the physical to the biological to the cultural field, Dr. White shows how various systems behave in accordance with their own laws and charts the course for the future. "The Science of Culture will take its place along with Morgan's Ancient Society and Boas' Mind of Primitive Man as a seminal and epoch-making book."—Harry Elmer Barnes

E-105/$2.95

HEATHCOTE WILLIAMS The Speakers

In London's Hyde Park, the speakers congregate daily to expound endlessly on those topics closest to their minds and hearts—sex, religion, politics, freedom, fear, and wild combinations of all these things, salted with their own wit and prejudice. This book presents the speakers as they live and work, ramble, pan-handle, and, of course speak.

BC-122/95¢

WAYLAND YOUNG Eros Denied: Sex in Western Society

This work explores, with wit, candor, and in a language more frank than any previously used, the forces which through the ages have suppressed and perverted the sexual instincts. "A remarkable, brilliant, and revolutionary book. I know of no other study in the history of sexual behavior that compares with it."—J. Donald Adams, The New York Times Book Review

PSYCHOLOGY and PSYCHIATRY

KURT A. ADLER and DANICA DEUTSCH, eds.

Essays in Individual Psychology: Contemporary Applications of Alfred Adler's Theories

Some fifty distinguished psychiatrists and psychologists summarize the latest advances in the application of Adler's Individual Psychology in the clinic, the social and educational fields, in theory and philosophy, and in the very important areas of child guidance and family counseling. Includes a series of case histories. Introduction by Joseph Wilder, M.D.

E-180/$2.95

ZEVEDEI BARBU Problems of Historical Psychology

This ambitious and highly original interdisciplinary work seeks to bridge the gap between the fields of psychology and history. Barbu's concern is the interaction between society and the individual psyche: how a society shapes and conditions the minds of those born into it, and how the resulting personality structures modify and shape the course of later history.

E-310/$1.95

EDMUND BERGLER, M.D. Counterfeit-Sex: Homosexuality, Impotence, Frigidity

A revised and enlarged edition of the famous work by a leading post-Freudian psychiatrist. "A comprehensive and authoritative account of the principal activities substituted by many neurotics for normal genital sex, and of the principal ways in which other neurotics misuse genital sex. This work should prove both enlightening and valuable."—Psychiatric Quarterly

BC-68/$1.75

ERIC BERNE, M.D.

Games People Play: The Psychology of Human Relationships

More popular every day, this is the wildfire best-seller the whole country is buzzing about. It provides astonishing insights into every human relationship by exposing and analyzing the secret "games" people play every day of their lives—without realizing it. Over a year on the best-seller lists and still running strong, 30 printings! 500,000 copies in print! "The book is recommended both for information and entertainment."—The Journal of Nervous and Mental Disease. "Brilliant . . . amusing . . . important."—Life. Clothbound. GP-321/$5.00

A Layman's Guide to Psychiatry and Psychoanalysis

An extensively revised and updated edition of the author's The Mind in Action, this book is designed "to give the reader a better understanding of himself and others, and not to make a tea-room psychiatrist out of him." "Written simply in nontechnical language, the book deals with the nature of man; how he grows and develops; such problems as neuroses, psychoses, and behavior disorders; psychiatric and psychoanalytic treatment; 'wonder' drugs, and even extrasensory phenomena."—MD BC-30/95¢

The Structure and Dynamics of Organizations and Groups

Based on the principles set forth in Games People Play, this book offers a systematic framework for therapy of "ailing" groups and organizations. An elementary clinical vocabulary is employed, and technical notes are kept separate from the basic text. "A witty, interesting, and informative elementary textbook on the group process."—The American Journal of Medical Sciences E-397/$2.45

Transactional Analysis in Psychotherapy

This work, to which Games People Play is a sequel, outlines a new, unified system of individual and social psychiatry that recently has been introduced with remarkable success into various hospitals and other psychiatric establishments in the United States. Essentially designed for group therapy, this approach is now used by institutions, group workers, and in private practice with neurotics, sexual psychopaths, psychosomatic cases, and adolescents. E-300/$3.95

MARIE BONAPARTE Female Sexuality

The author, a pioneering analyst of the Freudian school, explores and analyzes the biological, psychological, and social aspects of female sexuality from its earliest manifestations to the adult function. Topics discussed include bisexuality, the paths by which male and female progress to maturity, the fundamental types of female orgasm, the question of the libido, and the problem of female masochism. BC-87/95¢

EDITH BUXBAUM Understanding Your Child

This guidebook for parents gives the elements of child psychology as they apply in the daily problems of child rearing. "Edith Buxbaum's book gives admirable instruction, elucidation, illustration, and guidance to parents who set out on this new task of understanding the working of their child's mind."—Anna Freud. Originally published as Your Child Makes Sense. BC-14/50¢

FRANK S. CAPRIO, M.D. Female Homosexuality:
A Psychodynamic Study of Lesbianism

A complete and authoritative book, based on hundreds of interviews, information gathered on world travels, discussions with other authorities, and years of clinical research. "Dr. Caprio has covered the history, contemporary prevalence, causes, types and many other aspects of female homosexuality.... An enlightening book. . . ."—Psychiatric Quarterly BC-27/95¢

The Modern Woman's Guide to Sexual Maturity

Partial contents: What Is Meant by "Sexual Maturity"?; Sex and Its Influence on Health and Personality; Sexual Maturity Before Marriage; The Role of the Woman in the Sex Act; The Problem of the Sexually Inadequate Husband; Husbands With Special Neurotic Behavior Problems; Pregnancy and Parenthood; The Single Woman; Menopause and Sex After Fifty. BC-92/95¢

PAUL De KRUIF A Man Against Insanity

The story of a doctor who conquered his own insanity and now shows others the way back. "The book is splendid. It is so interesting I could hardly put it down until I'd finished it."—Dr. Walter C. Alvarez. "One of the great stories of our time."—Washington Post and Times Herald. "Here is unquestionably major medical history in the making."—The New York Times Book Review BC-28/60¢

MANFRED F. De MARTINO, ed. Sexual Behavior and Personality Characteristics

"An unusually good collection of recent basic, and often classic, papers on normal and abnormal sex behavior. It covers a number of important areas and includes many papers which are enlightening, must reading."—Dr. Albert Ellis. "This book will be of interest to marriage counselors, family life educators, and sexologists."—Journal of Marriage and the Family. "A worthwhile study, ably handled, of relationships too long screened by taboo from the view of most Americans."—Los Angeles Herald-Examiner BC-111/95¢

ROBERT S. De ROPP Drugs and the Mind

A world-famous biochemist takes the reader on a journey of discovery into the chemistry of the brain and the emotions, and the unspeakable joys and tortures produced by ancient herbs and modern drugs. "Filled with a wealth of information and scientific facts, it remains fascinating from cover to cover. This is due not only to the literary skill of the author. The book abounds with interesting historical data."—The New York Times Book Review BC-7/95¢

DAVID EBIN, ed. The Drug Experience

First person accounts by addicts, writers, scientists and others, of the effects on the human mind of hashish, heroin, cocaine, opium, peyote, mescaline, LSD, mushrooms, and other drugs. "A wide-ranging series of such descriptions ranging in time from classics like De Quincey and Baudelaire to Aldous Huxley's minute account of the effects of mescaline on himself and such latter-day drug users as Billie Holiday and Alexander King. The excerpts have been carefully chosen, and much of the material will be new to readers."—John Barkham, Saturday Review Syndicate
BC-62/95¢

ALBERT ELLIS The American Sexual Tragedy

A frank and detailed analysis of sex guilt by one of America's foremost psychologists and marriage counselors. "Millions of sexually confused people can find a guide to healthy living here. The prurient will damn it, and the repressed will run away from it. We wish it could be made compulsory for every couple." Dr. Robert A. Harper, Marriage and Family Living
BC-49/95¢

The Folklore of Sex

"A book that truly deserves to be called unusual. . . . Full of wit, occasional sarcasm and much common sense. It ranks among the most important contributions to life and love in the contemporary U.S.A. . . . The best advice this reviewer can give is for everyone to read it. It is a shortcut to a liberal education in sexology . . . a thoroughly satisfying experience."—Dr. Harry Benjamin, American Journal of Psychotherapy
BC-4/95¢

Sex Without Guilt

A newly revised and enlarged edition. Partial Contents: New Light on Masturbation; Thoughts on Petting; On Premarital Sex Relations; Adultery: Pros and Cons; The Justification of Sex Without Love; Why Americans Are So Fearful of Sex; Adventures with Sex Censorship; How Males Contribute to Female Frigidity; Sexual Inadequacy in the Male; How American Women Are Driving American Males into Homosexuality.
BC-94/75¢

JEAN EVANS Three Men

Hailed as a masterpiece of psychological reporting, this book paints personality portraits of three men—a delinquent, a necrophile, and a homosexual—who are at odds with themselves and society. "Miss Evans' book is invaluable for the teacher and student of psychology. . . . She writes beautifully."—Erich Fromm
BC-40/$1.25

EDRITA FRIED, Ph.D. On Love and Sexuality

"A clearly written, revolutionary approach to love and sexual relationships. Included are problems in, and solutions for, marital maladjustments, frigidity, impotence, homosexuality, boredom, hate, and clinging. Should be in the hands of everyone interested in bettering human relationships."—Lewis R. Wolberg, M.D.

ROBERT LINDNER

Must You Conform?

The famous collection of essays: The Mutiny of the Young; Homosexuality and the Contemporary Scene; Political Creed and Character; The Instinct of Rebellion; Must You Conform?; Education for Maturity. "Dr. Lindner is that some what unusual phenomenon, a psychoanalyst with a message and the means with which to communicate it to the man in the street... His language is concise, vigorous, urgent, unmistakable in its impact."—John Barkham, Saturday Review Syndicate. "Likely to prove one of the most stimulating reading experiences of the year."—Los Angeles Times BC-6/95¢

Rebel Without a Cause

The tragically moving documentary story of a young "rebel" who had compiled a staggering list of criminal offenses by the time he reached Dr. Lindner in a Pennsylvania penitentiary. "This book may develop to be epochal in its field... a notable contribution to criminological literature."—The New York Times. "The most exciting and one of the most deeply and tragically human stories I have read in a long time."—The New Republic BC-124/95¢

J. L. McCARY, ed. Psychology of Personality: Six Modern Approaches

Six foremost authorities—Leopold Bellak, Raymond B. Cattell, George S. Klein, Margaret Mead, Nevitt Sanford, and David C. McClelland—are represented in this pioneering work. "An intellectual feast... six different approaches to human nature... as varied as one could wish and yet in nowise incompatible. The reflections of these authors are at the frontier of contemporary thought."—Dr. Henry A. Murray, Harvard University E-139/$2.95

ESTHER and WILLIAM MENAKER

Ego in Evolution

The first attempt to develop an evolutionary theory for the human psyche, this work has been acclaimed as an intellectual breakthrough with enormous implications for the behavioral sciences. Brock Chisholm, former head of the World Health Organization: "Many of us who have worked in the psychotherapeutic field have felt the inadequacies of the theories under whose guidance we were working, but did nothing even to try to amend or extend those theories. I believe this to be a most valuable contribution... which should take an important place in the psychological literature of this generation." Clothbound. GP-354/$6.95

PATRICK MULLAHY Oedipus: Myth and Complex: Review of Psychoanalytic Theory

WILHELM STEKEL, M.D.

Auto-Erotism: A Psychiatric Study of Onanism and Neurosis

In this pioneering work, now a classic in psychiatric literature, Dr. Stekel challenges the superstitions, half-truths, and misconceptions that have grown up around the practice of masturbation. Foreword by Emil A. Gutheil and introduction by Fredric Wertham.

E-288/$2.95

Impotence in the Male (2 vols.)

A comprehensive pioneering study of the psychic disorders of the sexual functions in the male, illustrated with 120 case histories. Topics include vocation and sexuality, masturbation and potency, impotence and marriage, impotence and religion, unconscious love and hatred, impotence and criminality.

Vol. 1 BC-82/95¢

Vol. 2 BC-83/95¢

Sadism and Masochism (2 vols.)

This massive work on the psychology of hatred and cruelty is described by Dr. Emil A. Gutheil as "the most complete and thought-provoking book written on the subject of sadomasochism." Topics include homosexuality and sadomasochism, infantilism and sadomasochism, jealousy and sadomasochism, the analysis of a masochist, cannibalism, necrophilism, and vampirism. 64 case histories.

Vol. 1 BC-85/95¢

Vol. 2 BC-86/95¢

Sexual Aberrations (2 vols.)

A searching study of the sexual distortion known as fetishism. In analyzing fetishes of all types, including several that have rarely been documented, Dr. Stekel explores such topics as the cult of the harem, fetishism and incest, homosexuality, the Satanic Bible, transvestitism, and the meaning of nails and heels in man's love life.

Vol. 1 BC-64/$1.25

Vol. 2 BC-65/95¢

CLARA THOMPSON, M.D. and PATRICK MULLAHY

Psychoanalysis: Evolution and Development

This review of theory and therapy, already a standard work in its field, has been acclaimed as a simple and comprehensive survey of the evolution and development of psychoanalysis from the early discoveries of Freud to the cultural approach of the interpersonal school of Sullivan.

E-67/$1.95

LARS ULLERSTAM, M.D. The Erotic Minorities

Dr. Ullerstam's book created a sensation when it was first published in Sweden in 1964, and again when it was brought out in a French edition in 1965. It is a radical attack on all sexual restrictions in today's society and an eloquent argument for complete freedom for every form of sexually "deviant" behavior.

BC-126/95¢

SAMUEL J. WARNER, Ph.D. Self-Realization and Self-Defeat

The path to a creative, productive life is charted here by a practicing psychotherapist. Writing in clear, straightforward language, Dr. Warner demonstrates to the person with self-defeating tendencies that his unhappiness and frustrations are self-motivated. By giving concrete examples of how successful therapy works, he shows how a person can confront and grapple with the causes of his problems—and actually change old patterns, achieving self-realization and a new freedom. Clothbound.
